Mobility®

Adapting Homes for Safety,
Comfort and Independence.

Welcome to Taylor-Made Mobility

Meet Paul and Penny

We are Paul & Penny, the Husband-and-Wife team who own and run Taylor-Made Mobility. We have over 15 years' experience in delivering mobility solutions to customers up and down the UK.

Our passion and goal is to help people live safely, independently, and comfortably in their own homes for as long as possible. We know from our own experience of elderly and disabled parents that finding the right support when circumstances dictate a change in living arrangements is very difficult; how do you choose from the myriad of bathroom or stairlift installers out there and how can you be sure that your needs are understood and solutions are built around them and not the desires of a particular business? How can you be sure that the products and installation are going to be of the right quality and that the adaption is undertaken with skill and care? How do you know that you will receive the level of service you expect and deserve and will be treated with courtesy, dignity, and respect throughout the process and beyond?

Together, we formed Taylor-Made Mobility so consumers had a better choice and could deal with a company whose sole aim is to provide high-quality service from the initial call right through to the design and the completed adaptation and long after that.

We hope our brochure helps provide more information about us and more importantly how we can help you. If you would like to get in touch to learn more about us or to book a free consultation and design, we would love to hear from you.

Oxfordshire expertise in the design and installation of home mobility adaptations to support your independent mobility needs at home.

Our Adaptations

There are four critical elements when providing an adaptation whether it be a bathroom or stairlift.

The design

Once we have taken time to understand our clients' needs we work together to create the most suitable design. Our computer-aided design process allows for a complete visualisation of the adaptation and our stress-free approach to taking on board feedback from all involved including family members and installers ensures a full appreciation and understanding of any work taking place. Our flexible approach allows for designs to be modified with clients in their homes, or, where family members are distanced, via remote video. Only when everyone is happy do we proceed.

The products

With over 15 years of experience, we know the pitfalls of poor product selection. We spend a lot of time selecting and reviewing the products we use. We always try to buy from UK manufacturers first and we have developed excellent relationships with suppliers who we know and trust to deliver quality products that meet all relevant safety standards and are reliable for the job. Our flooring and trays meet the highest level of slip resistance, our enclosures are all safety glass, our showers are always thermostatic to avoid scolding, and our seats and grab support are guaranteed to provide the confident support required whilst being stylish and subtle.

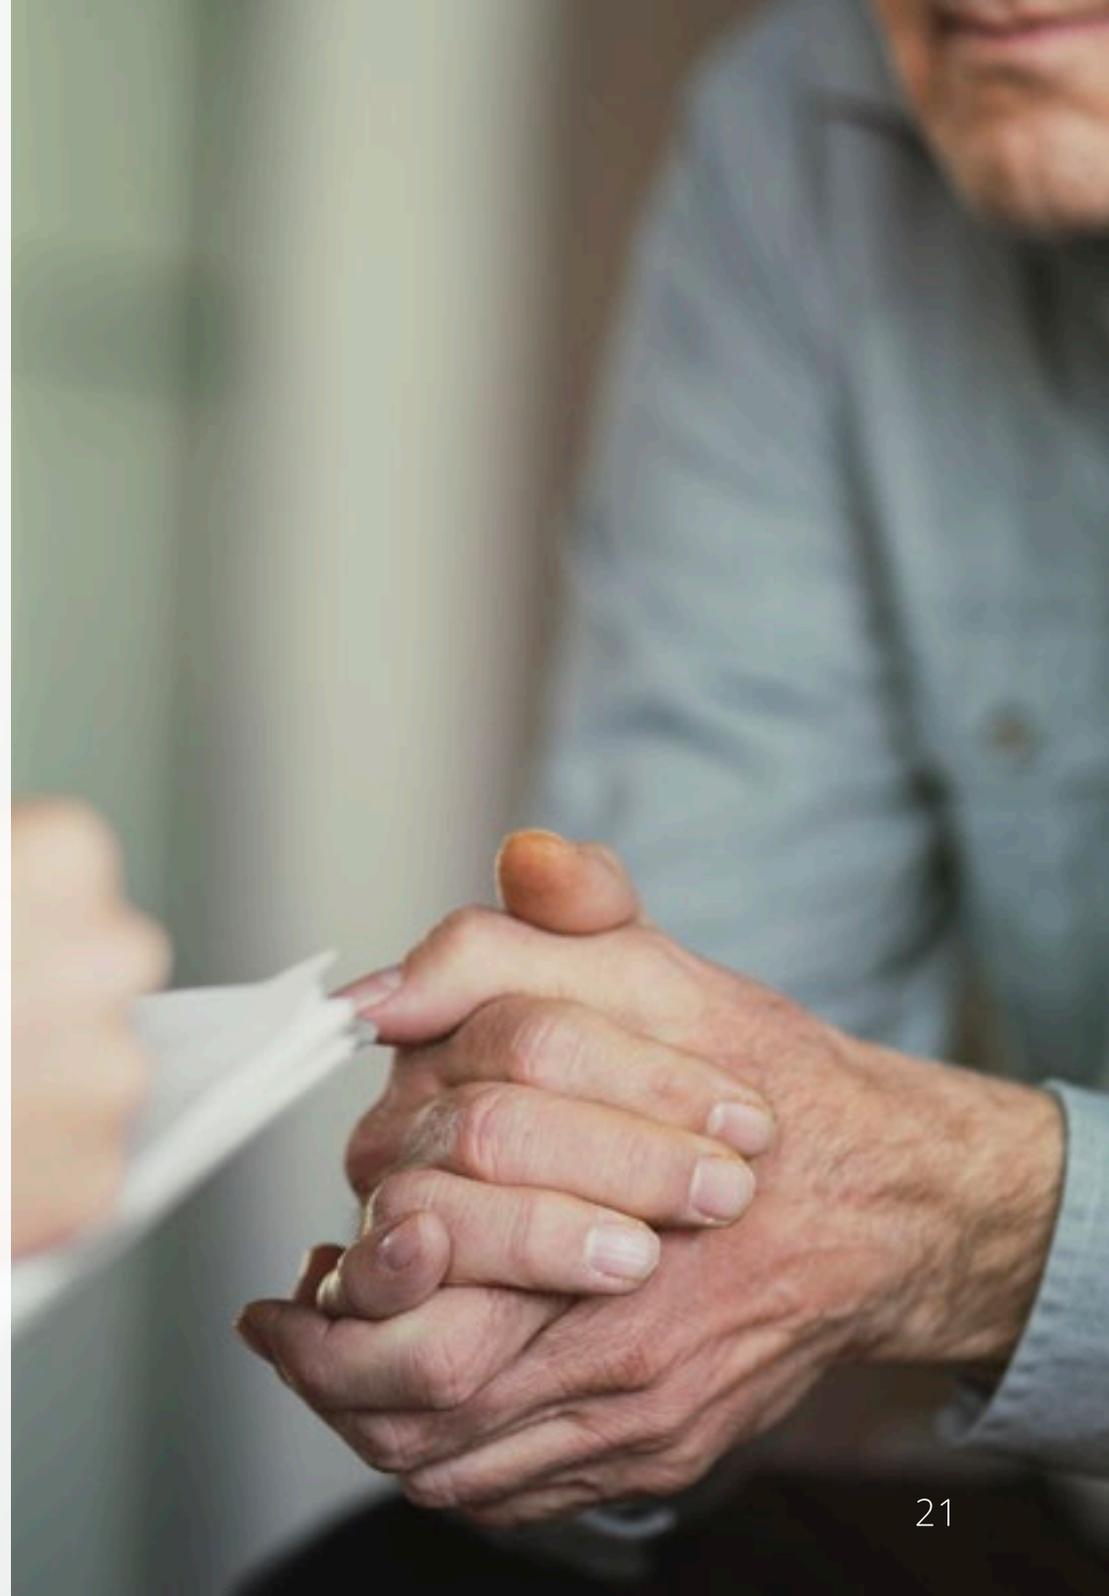

The installers

Our installers are hand-picked and vetted to ensure that not only are they of the highest standard of skill in their work but also as committed to customer service as we are. The range of skills we can bring to our adaptations is extremely broad, including construction, plumbing and heating, electricals, gas, tiling, and more. We keep in close contact with our installers on and off the job to ensure that our clients always receive the best possible service and work outcome.

The support

Even with the best will, intentions, and processes, sometimes things don't go to plan. We can discover issues with the property that were not visible until an existing bathroom has been removed for example. We could also open a sealed package and find a product that is marked or we may receive a faulty item that isn't discovered until the installation. Whilst these occurrences are extremely rare, our processes and absolute passion to deliver a first-class adaptation means that we can quickly identify the problem and immediately implement actions to resolve it. For peace of mind, we keep in contact with our installers and clients throughout all stages of the adaptation. We consider our support and service second to none.

Your Safety is Paramount

Prioritising Safety: Ensuring Your Peace of Mind

At Taylor-Made Mobility, safety is at the heart of everything we do. We understand that creating a secure environment in your home is paramount, especially when it comes to areas like bathrooms. Our unwavering commitment to safety sets us apart, and we take every measure to ensure your peace of mind.

Comprehensive Safety Measures in Bathrooms

Slip Resistance and Safety: We ensure that your bathroom floors and trays are slip-resistant, reducing the risk of accidents and providing stable footing even when the floor is wet.

Reliable Grab Support: Our bathrooms are designed with strategically placed grab bars, offering sturdy support that assists your movements and enhances your stability.

Thoughtful Seating: Incorporating seating options ensures that you can comfortably take your time whilst bathing, reducing the risk of slips and falls.

Reinforced Walls: Strengthening the walls around key areas ensures that your bathroom remains secure even as you use grab bars for support.

Safety Glass and Enclosures: Our safety-focused approach extends to our choice of materials. Safety glass and well-constructed enclosures protect without compromising the style of your home.

Qualified Installers and Adherence to Regulations

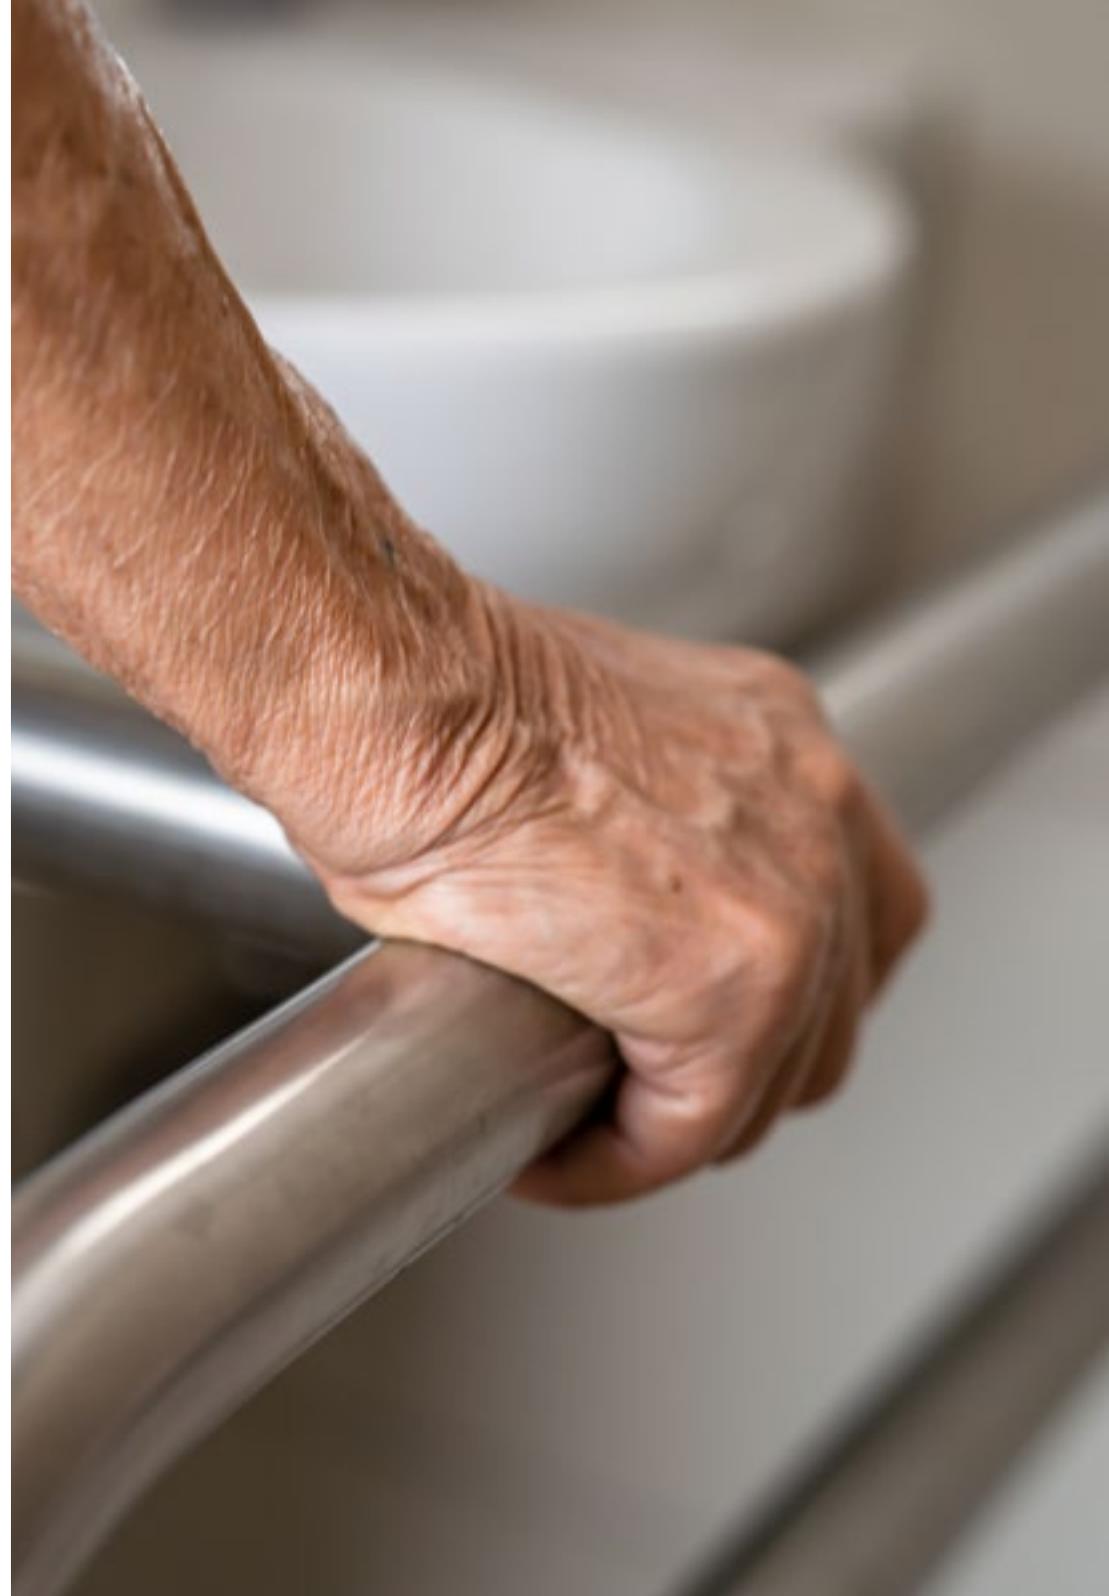

We understand the importance of proper installation and adherence to regulations. Our team of qualified and vetted installers follows building regulations to the letter, ensuring that every aspect of your bathroom adaptation meets industry standards for safety and functionality.

Certifications and Assurance

At Taylor-Made Mobility, we are continuously evaluating and improving our processes to provide the highest level of safety. While we do not currently hold specific certifications, our unwavering commitment to safety and quality is evident in every project we undertake.
